

DID YOU KNOW?

At 15ft by 7ft, The Nutshell Pub in Bury St Edmunds is officially Britain's Smallest Pub.

The Abbey Gardens was originally laid out in the same style as the Royal Botanic Gardens in Brussels.

Charles Dickens stayed at The Angel Hotel in Bury St Edmunds three times during the 1800s. His favourite room, 215, is now known as the Charles Dickens room, and still contains the original four-poster bed he slept in!

Bury holds the earliest known sundial designed for GMT. The pillar sundial and planter in the Abbey Gardens was originally designed as a drinking fountain and donated to the town in 1869 by the third Marquess of Bristol.

Bury St Edmunds' town motto is 'Sacrarium Regis, Cunabula Legis' (Shrine of the King, cradle of the Law), reflecting its links with King Edmund and The Charter of Liberties.

INTRODUCING THE BURY ALE TRAIL

Historic Bury St Edmunds is the perfect place to experience delicious real ale and unique craft beer

When you raise a glass in Bury you become part of an incredible and unrivalled brewing history dating back 1,000 years. In 1086, monks were brewing ale on the site of the Great Abbey using water from Bury's chalk wells which are still used today by Greene King, one of the UK's largest breweries.

From award-winning public houses to unique bars, there is a great choice of real ale and craft beer as well as live music, beer festivals and quiz nights throughout the year providing something for everyone!

Mark your place in history, share your experience, tell others about your favourite pub, bar or speciality shop on Twitter using #BuryAleTrail
